ALUNA is a documentary film sequel to the BBC documentary 'From the Heart of The World: the Elder Brother's Warning' (1990). The first documentary showed the Kogi an ancient lost civilization (the Elder Brother) who emerge to offer their concern for people of the modern world (Younger Brother). This documentary by director Alan Ereira brings the desperate plea from the Kogi Mamas of the Sierra Nevada of Santa Marta, Colombia, to the rest of humanity.

"This movie gives the opportunity to hear the critical message from the Kogi Mamas & from ALUNA, meaning our Great Mother. ALUNA the movie is for people who are concerned about the critical status of our planet, the wellbeing of humanity & want to recover wise ways to help & protect nature & our community."
